A Publication of the Senior Class of

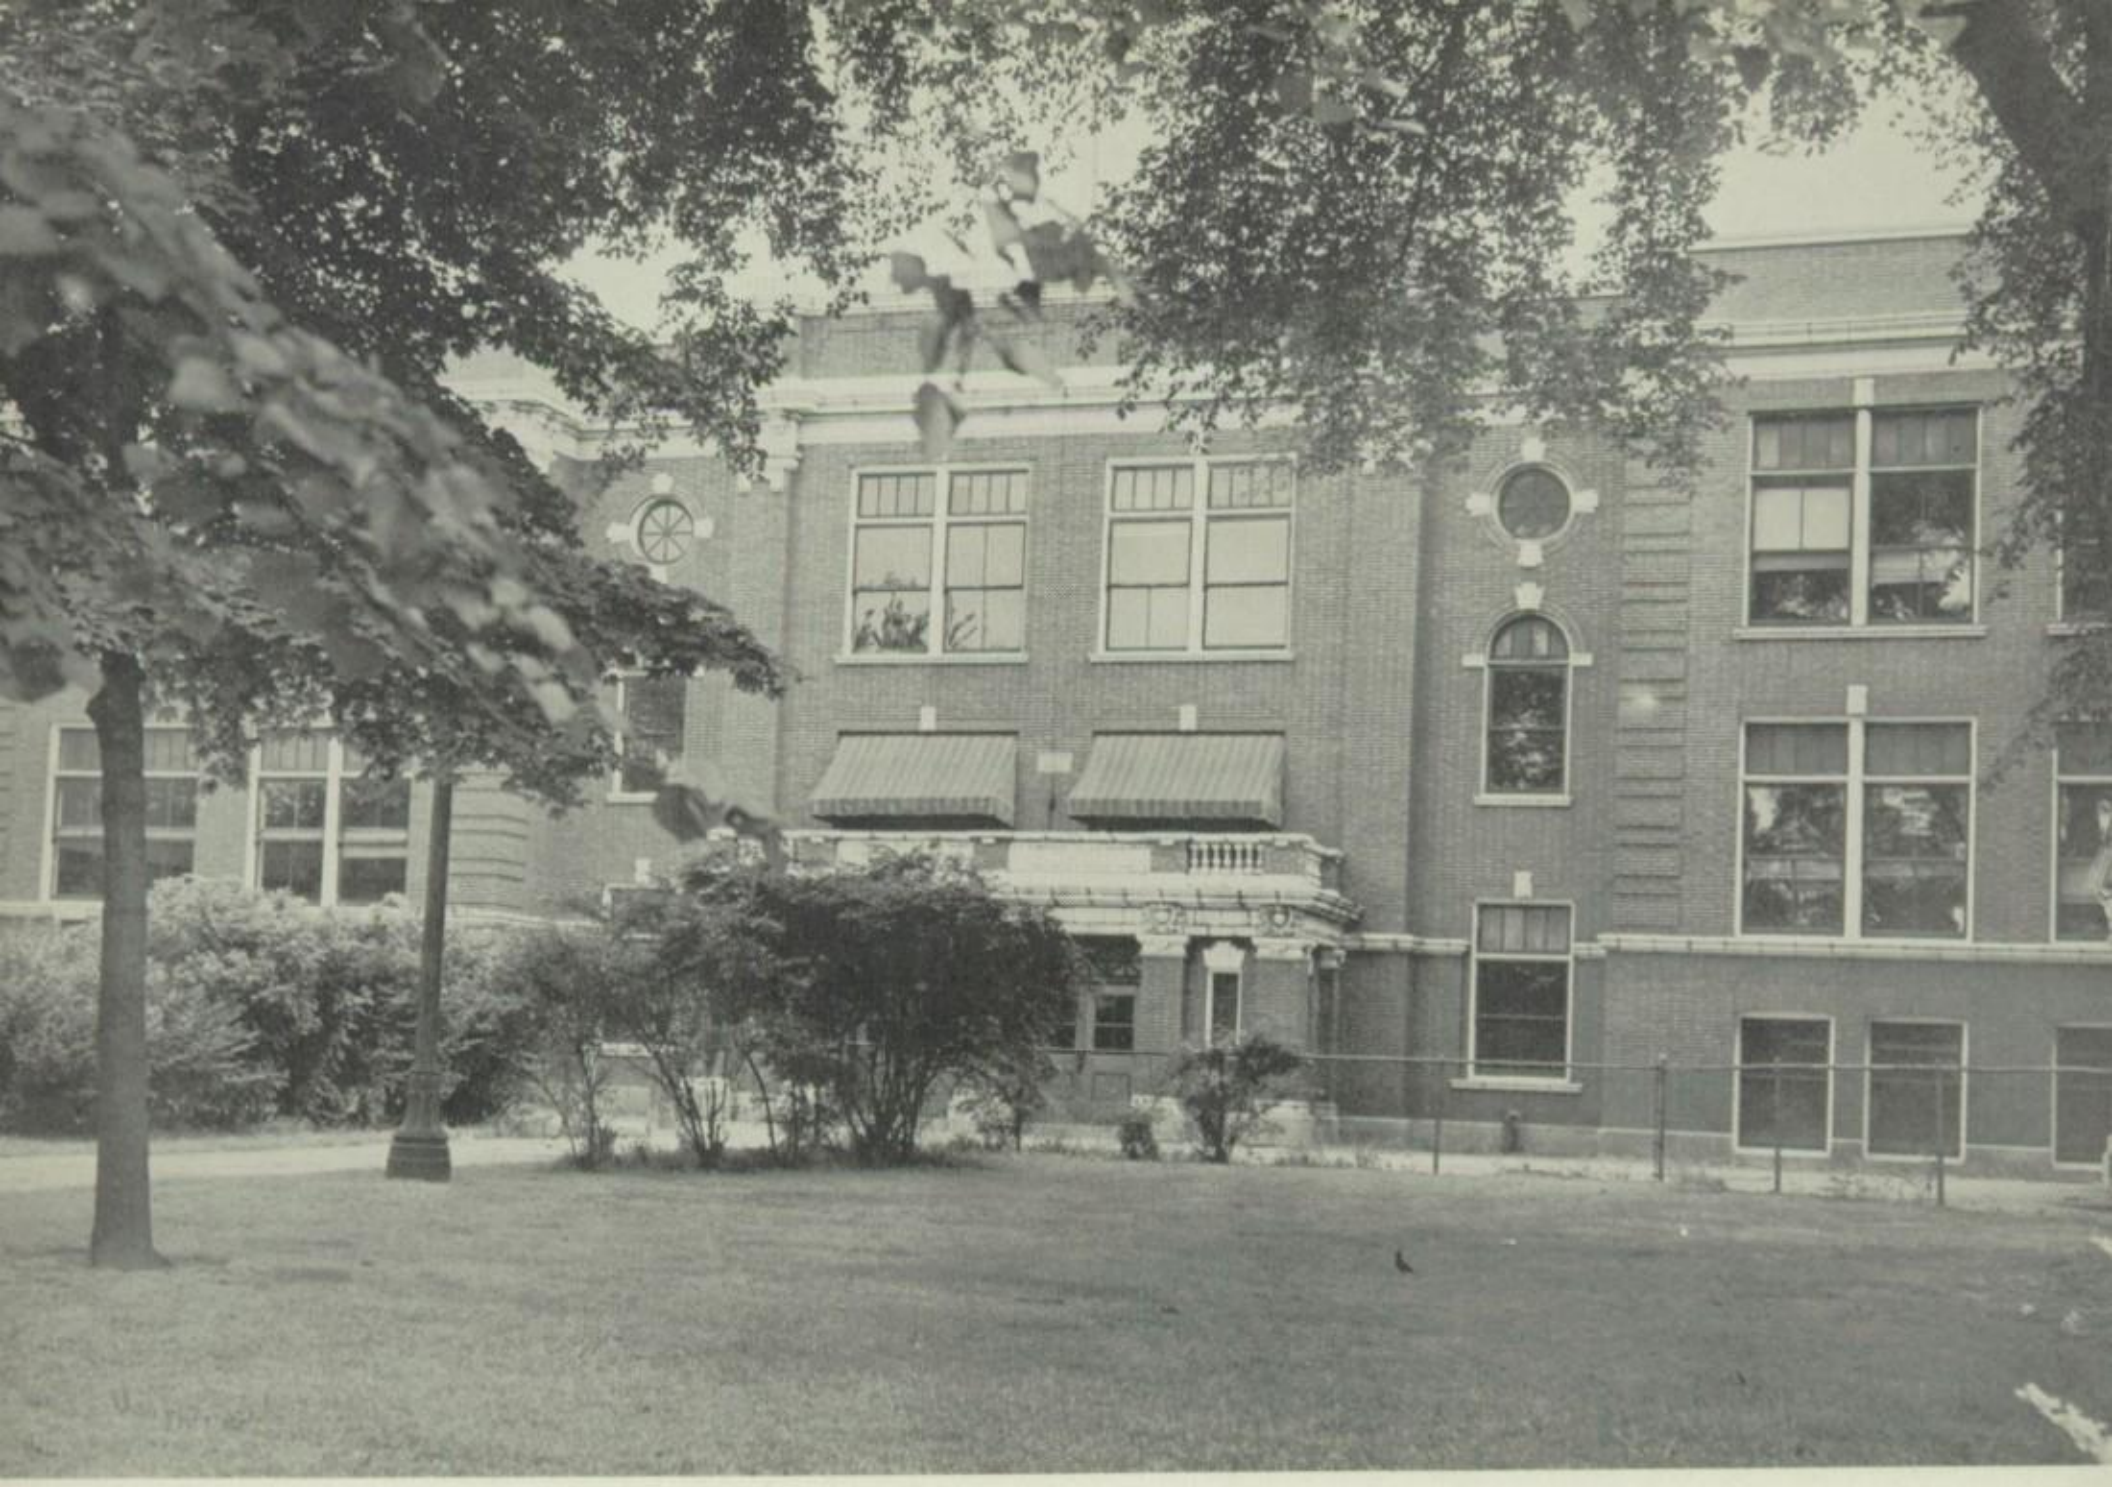
Wadsworth High School

Wadsworth, Ohio



Wadsworth High School appears alive with robust and energetic students. Of course, the pupils are normal—some willing to work, the rest willing to let them. Still the supply of activity in our school is inexhaustible. The common sights and sounds resulting from this activity create the invisible atmosphere which converts this red brick structure into what is commonly known as a school. Activity has given culture and personality to Wadsworth High School and has added glory to its lore.

Although the building was originally dedicated as an institute for the acquisition of knowledge, in it we learn something additional, something rather vague which has to do with philosophy.

By means of the camera, that mischievous apparatus which was constantly lurking in the corridors of our school, we have captured a small but representative picture of our school life. We have classified and explained this picture and are now presenting it to you as a record of the memories of the past school year.

Best of Luck to a friend Bob Noble "56"

DEDICATION

Robert 'Bugs' McCafferty

Robert C. McCafferty

We, the Annual Staff, respectfully dedicate the 1954 Whisperer to Mr. Robert C. McCafferty, the instructor of biology at W.H.S.

It has been nine years since Mr. McCafferty began teaching in our school, and he has always been a reliable source of biological information, whether it concerns the location of amoebic pseudopods or just proving that Aristotle was "all wet."

Some students know and remember "Bugs" as their freshman advisor; others, as a novel biology teacher; but most students will always remember "Bugs" for his unique sense of humor.

His sense of humor, together with his understanding and efficiency, is sincerely appreciated by all of his pupils. Mr. McCafferty has contributed a great deal to the life of Wadsworth High School.

CLASSES

O. J. Work

Louise Hildebrand

Mrs. Louise Hildebrand, the efficient assistant of our principal, is perhaps the most important link between the students and the faculty. People find it very easy to discuss their problems with her because of her natural sincerity and understanding. Her good judgment and her ability to inspire good judgment in others have caused her to be regarded very highly by all who have come into contact with her in her life at W.H.S.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. O. J. Work, our principal, has to his credit thirty years of working and cooperating with the students and the faculty of Wadsworth High School. To some students the word principal has a very disagreeable connotation. Mr. Work does handle all disciplinary problems, but we have never heard of his being unfair or unjust. As principal he is always willing to write letters of recommendation for students or to help them in any possible way.

Mr. M. H. Burkholder has just completed his eighth year as superintendent of the Wadsworth City Schools. His work and effort over this period of time has been aimed toward one main goal, the expansion and renovation of our school system. He has effected the remodeling of many old facilities and has procured new and better provisions for classrooms. He shows his interest in students and in student activities by the vigorous part he takes in school events. This is clearly demonstrated by his occasional cheerleading exhibitions.

M. H. Burkholder

Wanda Kuhn, William Heyl, Marjorie Wingire.

OFFICE STAFF

Miss Wanda Kuhn is the competent secretary of Mr. Work. Smiling, energetic Wanda has an endless list of duties which range from simple things—change for a quarter, a much needed rubber band, an aspirin for a headache — to the duties more commonly connected with secretarial positions.

Mr. William Heyl holds the position of clerk of the Board of Education. The needs of all the faculty members soon reach the hands of Mr. Heyl, for he is the purchaser of all school supplies.

If you glance through the glass windows as you pass the office of the superintendent, you can almost always see Miss Marjorie Wingire, the busy secretary of Mr. Burkholder, working hard. The work Marjorie did occasionally last year during office practice class recommended her for a full-time job this year.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Keeping the expenditures of W.H.S. on a sound financial basis, providing curriculum and policies which tend to contribute a well-rounded program, employing capable instructors to teach in city schools—these are some of the problems which are encountered by the Board of Education.

The Board consists of five men who are elected by the people of Wadsworth because of their knowledge of the schools and younger generation and because of their willingness to deal with the problems which confront our educational system.

M. F. Yelinek, Kenneth Fenton, J. S. Overholt,
T. H. Ewing (President), D. O. Wearstler (V. President).

ENGLISH

English teachers at W.H.S. can always be identified by their notoriously cluttered desks. On these desks accumulate attendance slips, book reports, examinations, and many other forms of literature. Mr. Cooper, Miss King, Mrs. Schaffer, Mr. Fuller, and Mr. Hildebrand are kept busy by teaching students and also by organizing the conglomeration on their desks.

Oliver A. Cooper, Jane King, Barbara Schaffer, Warren Fuller Gordon Hildebrand.

HISTORY AND CIVICS

Columbus would never have ventured to America if he had anticipated that a great amount of history which students would have to learn was going to result from his discoveries. Mr. Wright, Mr. Hunsberger, and Mr. Schaffer are in part paying for the recklessness of Columbus, for it is their duty to teach our energetic students the history which has taken place since the days of Columbus as well as before them.

Art Wright, Willard Hunsberger, Jack Schaffer.

MATHEMATICS

Totaling all the numbers which have been written on the blackboards of rooms 303, 310, and 311 would be a life-long task for some enterprising person. Normally, however, the mathematical manipulations taught by Miss Allen, Mr. Lyren, and, Mrs. Krabill are sufficient for a student's needs.

Dorothy Allen, Eugene J. Lyren, Harriet Krabill.

DRIVING AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The fact that there is no swimming pool available at our school, has cut down this activity considerably for the gym classes. This seldom causes students much grief, however, for the wide range of sports known and taught by Mrs. Plough and Mr. Krauss more than compensate for the lack of swimming.

William Barton, Nella Plough, Richard Krauss.

COMMERCIAL SUBJECTS AND HOME ECONOMICS

Tomorrow's stenographers are produced by the combined efforts of Mr. Hanna, who teaches shorthand I and typing, and Mrs. Williams, who teaches shorthand II, and other commercial courses.

The one teacher who witnesses more failures than any other teacher in our school is Mrs. Henry, instructor of home economics, sewing, and cooking. All tentative cooks and seamstresses who have taken these courses know well the type of failure about which we speak.

Russell Hanna, Anne Williams, Frances Henry.

VOCATIONS

Mr. Doan, Mr. Gerstenschlager, Mr. Grunwald, and Mr. Cramp are directing the efforts toward vocational education for students who worry about the jobs their futures hold. The courses taught by these men make it possible for the students to put their minds at ease.

MUSIC

Kingsley Sears
Albert Perkins

King Sears is responsible for recruiting and perfecting the vocal talent of the students in our school.

The success of the W.H.S. Band in recent years is attributed to Mr. Perkins, who directs the students that are lovers of music without words.

Strange concoctions with sparkling results have been known to liven up classes instructed by Mr. Hudson and "Bugs" McCafferty. Their ambition: to produce a W.H.S. duplication of "the mad scientist."

SCIENCE

Douglas Hudson
Robert McCafferty

LANGUAGE

Louise Hildebrand, Helen Gairing

"Non scio" and "No lo sé" are words which are heard more frequently than any other words in the classes of Mrs. Gairing and Señora Hildebrand, the respective Latin and Spanish teachers.

A newcomer to our faculty this year is Mr. Oross. In addition to his job of trying to drill geography into the fertile minds of seventh graders, he spends a great deal of time training the intramural players for the Jungle Teams.

It is the voice of Miss Baughman instructing her art classes one hears as he plods through the upper halls. Perhaps someday her wish will come true, and she will obtain an art room supplied with necessary equipment including a roof.

GEOGRAPHY & ART

Andy Oross
Doris Baughman

Mrs. Hazel Crumley, Mrs. Mary Garcia, Mrs. Irene Mohler, Mrs. Ruth Youtz, Mrs. Elsie Kissling, Mrs. Sadie Conrad, Mrs. Helen West.

COOKS

One of the primary interests of all teen-agers is food. The palatable dishes of Mrs. Kissling and her kitchen staff will always be pleasantly recollected by the graduates of Wadsworth High School.

CUSTODIANS

Our hats are off to Charlie, Pinky, Jim, and Bill. These are the men who have undertaken the endless task of keeping our school spic and span. Have you ever noticed the students of W.H.S. when their paper wads miss their targets, or as they slyly carve initials on freshly painted desks, or as they contribute a piece of gum to the underside of their chairs? If you have noticed, you understand why these men must be extremely patient and industrious to do their job well.

William Bassett, Charles Banks, Harold Fulton.

SENIORS

Tom Marrin (President), Nancy Love, Marjeanne Beery, Jeannette Gaugler, Mrs. Hildebrand (Advisor), Bruce Turner.

CLASS CABINET

Early in September of 1950, eager, inexperienced freshmen began their quest for knowledge at W.H.S. After their egos had been humbled by an initiation from the sophomore class, they were shown that they too were considered a part of their high school by being permitted to attend their first formal.

The class was enlarged when the rural students joined it in their sophomore year. In this year the sophomores sat back and let the new freshmen treat them to an enjoyable picnic.

The junior-senior banquet, the main goal toward which a magazine sale was directed in the junior year, was acclaimed successful by all. Some of these talented juniors combined their efforts to produce an outstanding class play.

In the final year of their high school experience, these students again utilized their dramatic talents to present the senior class play, OUR TOWN. The various events of the senior year ranging in formality from the Prom to the senior kid party had nearly completed the picture of their lives at W.H.S. Commencement supplied the final touch, and now the graduates await the novelty of the lives which lie before them.

CLASS CABINETS

Can you imagine the success of a junior-senior banquet or a freshman-sophomore picnic if no one supervised the planning and preparation for these events? Who is it that manages the various class functions? Of course, the people who supervise events are the respective class officers. The class officers are elected by the students for their personality, capability, and knack of using their leadership ability to run functions efficiently.

ACTIVITIES

ANNUAL STAFF

The job of the Annual Staff is very difficult. Every year they must capture a picture of the life at W.H.S. and present it to the students in a unique and interesting manner.

This year the Annual Staff has attempted to achieve this by adding an additional color to the book, by using off-set printing for bigger and better pictures, and by applying the original ideas of all staff members.

The students who comprise the Annual Staff spent much time doing their job. The business manager willingly undertook the task of soliciting sponsors for our book; the typists worked hard typing copy; the various editors and other members accomplished a great deal both during school and during free time.

The experience of Mr. Cooper, the advisor, proved invaluable to the Annual Staff.

Janet Friedt and Carol Harden are two energetic members of Annual Staff, who are attempting to understand the mechanism of the camera. Their efforts might prove unsuccessful, if Mr. Cooper were not present to aid them.

NEWS CLUB

A weekly account of events at Wadsworth High School is presented to the residents of Wadsworth by a staff consisting of students from the four grades of high school.

No doubt you have heard someone comment that many people have a nose for news. W.H.S. also has this class of people. They have been organized into the W.H.S. News and Views Staff. It has been their duty to present an interesting news column to satisfy the curiosity of the public of Wadsworth.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Membership in the National Honor Society is the result of individual industry, scholarship, character, and leadership. The accomplishments of various students during their early high school years are noted by members of the faculty. Those who are deserving are then chosen by the faculty to be admitted into this honorary organization.

After the characters of the members are put to test by an informal initiation, the neophytes are officially admitted into N.H.S. in an impressive formal initiation.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

One of the real objectives of education is to choose the proper vocational program for one's life. F.T.A. is an organization which gives students in high school an opportunity to learn about the teaching profession without placing them under any obligation to follow it. Members often aid the faculty by grading papers or by managing a class in absence of an instructor. One of the most impressive experiences a member can have is being permitted to teach elementary classes for a day or two.

N. F. L.

It is the basic nature of man to talk. One of the greatest pleasures which can be derived from life is the satisfaction received when one feels he has chosen appropriate words to illustrate his thoughts. The National Forensic League is striving to help more students gain this satisfaction.

As a student becomes accustomed to participation in speech tournaments, he often conquers fear and lack of ease in public speaking.

The problem of poor and incorrect word usage is common in the world of today. N.F.L. is trying to overcome this problem by teaching students to use clearer and more picturesque speech.

The continued effort and past oratorical experience of Bruce Campbell who was coached by Miss Jane King, resulted in his attaining third place in the statewide Prince of Peace Contest in which more than 4,000 speakers participated. This is the highest place ever achieved by a student of W.H.S.

STUDENT COUNCIL

At W.H.S. student government is a necessary, continuing concern. The duty of Student Council is to preserve civilized order by coordinating the wishes of the administration with the wishes of the student body. This task is often difficult and nearly impossible. Occasionally Student Council loses the favor of the students when they enforce such decisions as strict rules for study halls. On the whole, the clever, capable representatives which comprise this governing body have managed to persevere and to do their job efficiently.

WORLD AFFAIRS INSTITUTE

The Rotary Club of Wadsworth is aware of the need for wider knowledge of the problems and customs of the world. To help our students become aware of these things, the Rotary Club sends annually a junior boy and a junior girl to the World Affairs Institute in Cincinnati.

At this convention the students hear many interesting speeches, visit new places, meet new friends, and take part in many other enjoyable activities.

BUCKEYE BOYS' STATE
Arnold Goldstein, Alan Jankowski, Bruce Campbell.

BUCKEYE STATE

One hundred fifty-one years have passed since Ohio became a state in 1803. Since this date, the government of our state has developed into a very large and efficient organization. Each summer the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary set up similar governments on a much smaller scale to illustrate to students the important duties of the governing body of the state. Boys and girls who have finished their junior year in high school are eligible to attend.

Attending Boys' State or Girls' State is a wonderful experience, for students make many new friends and are prepared to be good citizens for tomorrow.

BUCKEYE GIRLS' STATE
Jeannette Gaugler, Beverly Parkinson, Ann Schreiber.

HONORARY BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN

Girls from the senior class are eligible to become Honorary Business and Professional Women. Chosen by the seniors, they attend the meetings of the Business and Professional Women's Club. There they enjoy a wonderful meal, learn the purpose and duties of the club, and become acquainted with the business and professional women of Wadsworth.

HONORARY ROTARIANS

The next generation of business and professional men in Wadsworth will probably be a well-informed, progressive group. The Wadsworth Rotary Club is helping to accomplish this by inviting senior boys to attend the meetings of the club. The high school representatives to these meetings are selected by popular vote of the senior class.

TRI-

TEENS

The agenda of Sr. Tri-Teens contains everything from cosmetology to pictorial visits to Europe and France. Sr. Tri-Teens is an organization for girls of the eleventh and twelfth grades, and it is run by the members themselves under the advice of Miss Allen.

Programs are prepared to include the suggestions and interests of the members. Friendship and enjoyment prevail during all the meetings. Even though much pleasure is derived from the Tri-Teen organization, its primary objective is service. When girls work together on projects, everyone enjoys the work.

Jr. Tri-Teens is a similar organization for girls of the ninth and tenth grades.

One of the service projects of Sr. Tri-Teens was making Christmas favors for the Medina County Infirmary. Pat Kallgren and Roberta Storm did their part by assembling small Christmas trees for this project.

A man is unimportant when he works for himself and by himself, but when he works with others and for others he can accomplish a great deal. This, perhaps, is the theme of Hi-Y. As a service club, it sponsors various events during the year, such as the never-to-be-forgotten dance, the Hog Rassle (where everyone dons his oldest attire), and the roaring football bonfire.

John Williamson seems to have the actions of Joe Arpad well under his control. Normally dances are rather civilized, but at the Hog Rassle anything can happen.

JUNIOR HI-Y

The Junior Hi-Y is a group of boys who are always willing to work together on school projects. Any boy in the seventh, eighth, or ninth grade may join this organization. Members of Junior Hi-Y find the organization to be a means of entertainment as well as an opportunity to work for the school and the community.

Bill Lyren and Don Files often participate in the vigorous basketball games which provide entertainment at the Junior Hi-Y meetings.

ROW 1: Birkbeck, Carney, Christian, Harden, Ritzman, Parmelee, Waltz, M. Miller, D'Zurik. ROW 2: DeLong, Perdue, Edis, Hall, Love, Neath, Dravenstott, Ribar. ROW 3: Spencer, N. # CHOIR

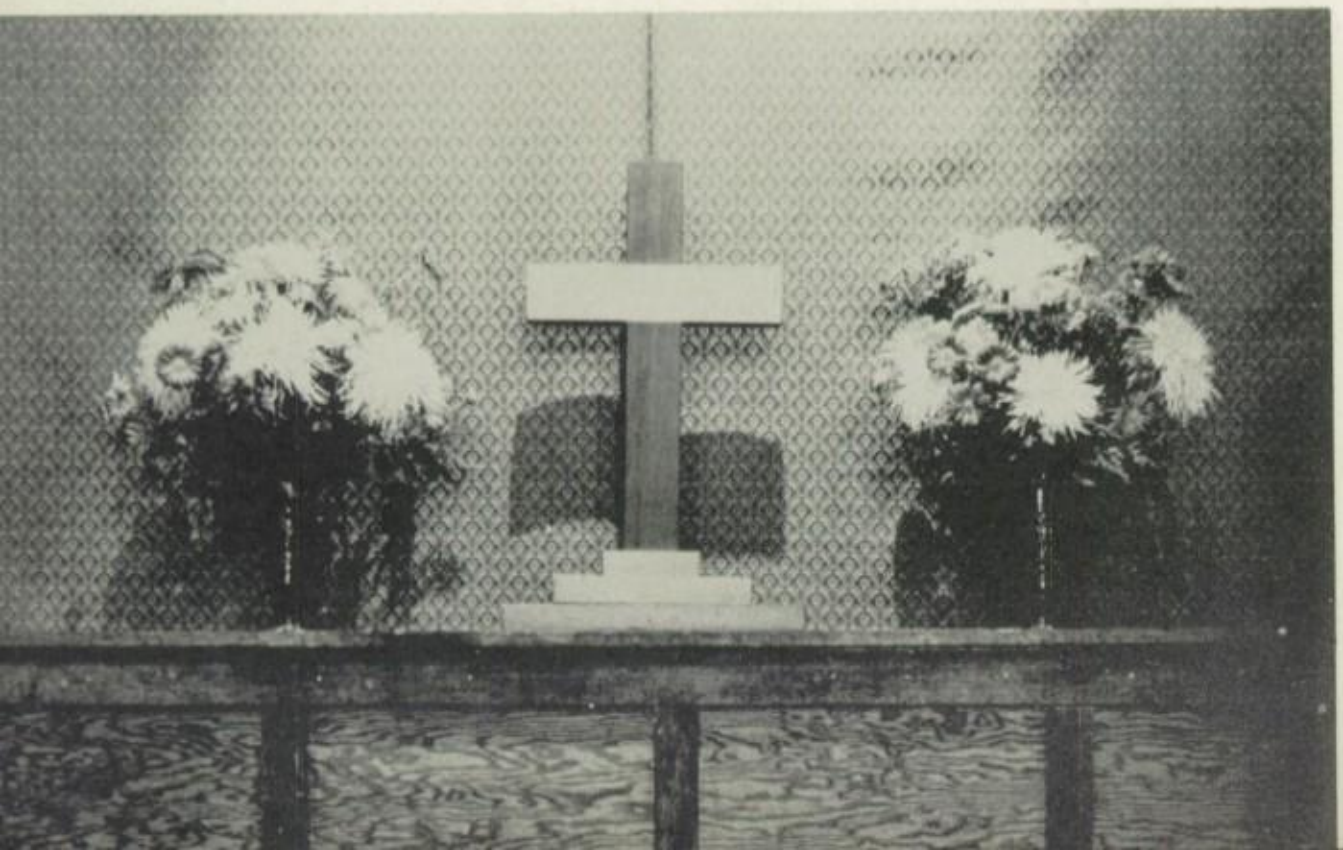
During eighth period of nearly every day of our school year, one could hear, echoing through the halls of W.H.S., the beautiful harmony of choral music created by the members of our school choir.

Under the direction of Mr. Sears, the choir has displayed its perfection on various occasions. The annual Christmas assembly and the monthly chapel services are certainly always worthy of recognition.



This altar helps to create the atmosphere which prevails during our chapel services.

This scene is typical of W.H.S. every morning at 8:00. The early-rising harmonettes hurry to room 308 where they hold their daily practice. They seldom have time to organize the books and coats in their lockers.

HARMONETTES

The most ambitious group of girls in our school are the Harmonettes. These girls rise and shine at least a half-hour before normal people rise so that they can practice combining and blending various vocal notes to produce pleasing melodies.

The Harmonettes have various scheduled appearances where they present a sparkling repertoire of popular tunes and milder forms of music. It is an honor to be a member of this industrious group.

Paula Neath, Esther Ritzman, Judy Waltz, Ruthann Cochran, Dora Ann D'Zurik, Linda Williams, Pat Kallgren, Mary Ann Rohrer, Mr. Sears (Director).

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

GLEE CLUBS

Several groups make appearances on the stage of W.H.S. The Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs are two of these groups which are often heard at concerts and assemblies. The voices of the members are perfected during regular class periods under the instruction of Mr. Sears. Boys and girls who join glee clubs sincerely enjoy singing, and students derive a great deal of pleasure from participating in them at W.H.S.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

RESERVE BAND

In an attempt to provide a bigger and better varsity band, W.H.S. maintains a reserve band. In this organization talent is discovered and trained during the daily reserve band classes. One of the enjoyed elements of the all-instrumental concert is the performance given by the reserve band.

MAJORETTES

Preceding the band in all its marching exhibitions are the active, attractive majorettes of Wadsworth High School. By continual practice these girls transform various versatile gyrations of their batons into novel routines which they present at football and basketball games.

The reserve majorettes march behind the band so that they can gain the experience necessary for them to qualify for varsity majorettes.

ART CLASS

What group is constantly seeking the novel, the vivid, the unique? The class in which vigorous imaginations find an outlet for expression on paper, cloth, wood, and other materials is, of course, the art class.

Art class has a number of service projects which it undertakes. It produces posters for organizations, scenery for operettas and plays, and Christmas decorations for the school.

One of the highlights of this year was the banners made for the Akron City Panhellenic Charity Ball held at the Mayflower.

Modern art, as well as realistic and older forms of art, is found at W.H.S. Beverly Hachenbarg and Arny Goldstein seem to be very much interested in a mobile created by one of the eighth grade students.

PRINT SHOP

If you need dance programs in a hurry, tickets for some approaching event, or campaign material for a coming class election, then call upon the print shop. The print shop under the instruction of Mr. Gerstenschlager is a vocational group which often assists the administration, the student body, and the organizations by printing material for them.

All students must occasionally take a breather from studies. No one is more aware of this than the members of the print shop who often have a party or a hayride.

MACHINE SHOP

Instructor Mr. Cramp keeps the boys in machine shop informed of the latest developments in such complex machines as the pulley, wheel and axle, and screw. The primary interest of members of machine shop is to incorporate in their mental apparatus the fundamental information and experience which will later develop into vocations for them. The boys are also interested in their physical and social well-being; so occasionally they go bowling or partake in some other activity to relieve their burden of education.

Students of metal working touch upon many trades as they pursue their vocational objectives. Here Carl Trease practices the ancient art of blacksmithing.

PROJECTIONISTS

Marvin Goldstein is checking a projector to make certain everything is in order before he shows any films.

Occasionally during study halls one or two boys escape from their pursuit of education to operate the movie projectors for some class that wishes to break the monotony of routine classwork by watching appropriate films. The movie operators have regular instruction periods in which they receive excellent advice to help them do their job well.

Splicing films is not a difficult task in this mechanical age. Bobby Kinnard demonstrates how he has mastered the technique of using the splicing machine.

MAKE-UP CREW

A rare phenomenon takes place every time Wadsworth High School prepares to present a dramatic production. For two or three days before the presentation, about a dozen people can be seen walking around with strange gray streaks in their hair. This is significant of one specific group of people, the W.H.S. Make-up Crew, directed by Miss Jane King.

The duty of the Make-up Crew is to convert the members of the various play casts into characters of the theatrical world by means of make-up and a good imagination. Perhaps it is because of the vivid imaginations of the crew members that the chief sport of the crew is playing charades.

STAGE CREW

If anyone would ever like to see an example of combining fun with hard work, he could receive no better illustration than the one he would get from watching the Stage Crew at work in preparation for a play, an assembly, a concert, etc.

The Stage Crew is selected and advised by Mr. Sears. The boys on the crew manage the technical and electrical end of all productions at W.H.S. Their job is an important one, and the Stage Crew is one of the most indispensable organizations of our school.

SPORTS

This school year Mr. Art Wright returned from military duty and assumed the position of Athletic Director which he held before leaving for his experiences in Korea.

Known to all the students is the head basketball coach of W.H.S., Mr. Richard Krauss. The excellent record of the team in recent years shows the result of Mr. Krauss's coaching ability.

ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

The remainder of the W.H.S. Athletic Department consists of five top men. Mr. Doan, Mr. Barton, Mr. Oross, Mr. Lyren, and Mr. Hudson guide the boys who participate in varsity and reserve sports. These coaches develop the strong points and eliminate the weaknesses of the athletes of W.H.S. They also teach the players accuracy, speed, precision, and good sportsmanship, which are necessary for athletic success.

Mr. Oross, Mr. Doan, Mr. Barton, Mr. Hudson, Mr. Lyren.

Nancy Love, Marilyn Miller, Carol Christian, Katy Miracle, Roberta Ribar, Patsy Birkbeck.

At every football game, every basketball game, and every pep rally, the outpour of students' cheering is led by the versatile girls commonly known as the cheerleaders of W.H.S. These girls increase school spirit by attaching acrobatics to the words of the various cheers.

The varsity squad works together with the varsity reserve squad to think of new and different yells. Girls who are hopeful of becoming cheerleaders may obtain the necessary practice by joining the reserve cheerleader organization.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

On September 8, our school year began. Students' minds were filled with the novelty of school. Few gave thought to football. The Grandview Stadium stood bleak and empty. By the time the first two weeks of school had passed, students were quite aware of the organization of the football team. On Friday night, September 18, the stadium filled with Grizzly fans, who cheered the team to their first victory, defeating Norton. Then throngs of people followed our team to Tallmadge where the growling Grizzlies rolled over the Blue Devils 31 to 6. The next four contests took place at home with the Bears victorious each time. The maximum was reached in the Copley game with the Grizzlies winning 48 to 0. Homecoming was a wonderful success as Queen Nancy Love and her court watched the Bears top Orrville with Jim Kime, Tom Marrin, and Gene Files crossing the goal line five times. After six consecutive victories the bubble burst and we suffered our first and only defeat, losing to Wooster. The disappointed players and spectators came away more determined than ever, and the team stormed up and down the field for six touchdowns during the game with Hower. The enthusiasm of the fans continued until the end of the last game, in which the Bears romped over our traditional rival, Medina. Tom Marrin was in the spotlight for racing 62 yards for one of the TD's.

The crowds filed out of the stadium, sorry to see such an excellent season come to an end, but satisfied with the work of our team.

Once again the stadium is empty, awaiting the crowds of next year's football season.

BASEBALL

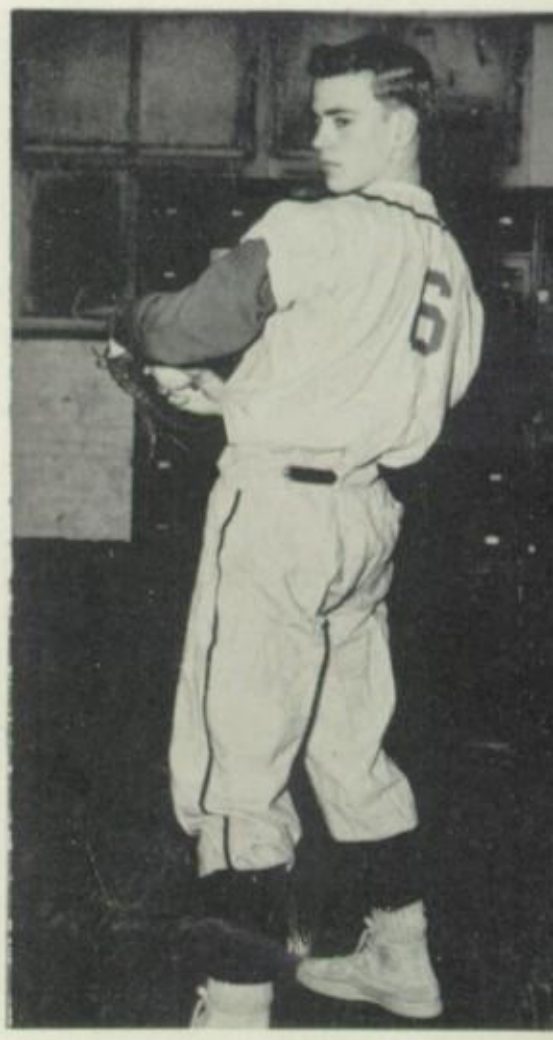
The diamond men of 1953 had a very good season, winning seven games and losing two. In tournament play the Grizzlies beat Medina 8 to 7, but they were dropped out of the running in a close game with Cuyahoga Falls, 12 to 10.

Backing up the good season was fine pitching and fielding which usually held opposing teams to only a few runs. In addition to the good field work, the batters tallied many runs for Wadsworth. With all the Grizzlies out to do their best, they certainly had a great season.



Determined Jim Christner eyes the runner on first base as he prepares to deliver the ball to the batter.

With Bill Ely as catcher, Tom Marrin awaits the pitches which will give him excellent practice for keeping his batting average high.

The past two years have brought great crowds of W. H. S. basketball fans to home and away gyms to see Grizzly teams win games and break records. This year was no exception. The lack of height equal to teams such as Coventry with their towering 6' 7" center and Copley with a center 6' 6", made no difference to the Red and White quintet. The team was led by our high-scoring center, Tom Marrin. Jerry McEntee and Art Sykes, also, did their share in the point parade, along with Bruce Turner, Gene Files, and Tom Sykes.

The first four victories over Stow, Norton, Wooster, and Rittman extended the winning streak of regular season play, started by the 1952-53 team, to nineteen. This great string of victories was ended by Orrville, who for the last two years had never had a chance against Wadsworth teams. This only made the Grizzlies more determined, and they came back to trounce the Coventry Comets 66-47, and North Canton 69-48. The next three games were a little tougher, but the W. H. S. quintet always managed to come out on top. The first was with our old rivals, the Medina Bees. The next was a thriller-diller when the Grizzlies beat the Magics in overtime on the large Barberton floor. For the ninth victory of the year Dick Krauss's hardwood artists triumphed over Akron Kenmore. After losing to us 66-56 earlier in the season, the Norton Panthers for the third straight year defeated the Grizzlies at Norton. In the next game the Red and White quintet was set back by Coventry, whom the Grizzlies had also beaten previously on the W. H. S. floor. To make up for the two losses, the Grizzlies repelled Tallmadge 63-58. This was won with considerably more ease than the final score indicates, for both the varsity subs and the reserve regulars played all of the final period. The next two games were defeats at the hands of Copley and Buchtel. The Grizzlies, suffering from four losses out of the last five games, came home and avenged their first loss of the season by beating Orrville 66-51.

The Red and White quintet made it a perfect season at home by beating Akron East. A victory over Rittman closed regular season play with 13 wins to only 5 losses.

In tournament play the Grizzlies stopped Norton 70-45. The next game, with Coventry, turned out to be one of the best of the tournament when Jerry McEntee tied it up for Wadsworth and then helped the Grizzlies win in overtime, 59-57.

In the tournament finals the Grizzlies fought hard to the end but bowed out to the powerful Kent Roosevelt team 64-53.

G. A. A.

The boys of Wadsworth High School are not alone in their passion for athletics. To satisfy the pleas of many energetic girls in our school, a Girls' Athletic Association was developed a few years ago.

G. A. A. provides an opportunity for friendly competition in such sports as basketball, volley ball, baseball, and bowling.

The various functions of the organization are run by the cabinet under the advice of Mrs. Plough, whose suggestions are certainly appreciated by all members.

In retrospect

We, the 1954 Annual Staff, have tried to portray our school life by organizing our conglomeration of ideas into three distinct phases—classes, activities, and sports—each of which has an effect on the lives of students at W.H.S. We have tried to create a lasting record of our years at Central High School, so that in the future it may aid us in recollecting the pleasant, fading memories of high school days.
